SAN JUAN ISLANDS, WA: SEA KAYAK EXPEDITION FOR WOMEN

2009: Custom dates only

Land Cost: $999

Wake up to brilliant sunrises and the fresh salt air of a San Juan Islands dawn. Spend the day paddling the blue-green waters of Puget Sound on the lookout for whales, seals, porpoises, eagles, loons and otter! On our weeklong kayaking journey, we paddle along rocky shorelines exploring quiet coves, dramatic headlands and forested inlets where only a kayak can go. The San Juan Islands lie in the protection of the Olympic Mountains' rain shadow and are a sea kayaker's mecca! This is an ideal trip to learn sea kayaking and navigational skills. No kayaking experience needed.

DAY 1

Arrive in Seattle at Adventure Associates' office at 8 am for gear review. Transport with group via vehicle shuttle to our San Juan Island boat launch site. This day is full of useful instruction and interesting information as we begin our kayak journey, including: boat, chart, equipment and gear orientation, on and off-water paddling skills, and safety orientation. Early evening arrival at our beach campsite. Welcome banquet dinner. (D)

DAYS 2-5

Each day we explore a new island shoreline with its secret coves, rocky headlines, shallow tidal areas and forested beaches. There are opportunities to visit an island preserve, hike to panoramic views, and have close viewing encounters with playful sea creatures and sea birds. Our paddling route, in part, will depend upon weather, tides, currents and the make-up of the group; we average 25 - 40 nautical miles over six days. Since we are a self-contained group, and we have quite a lot of traveling flexibility. Instruction will be offered in a variety of kayak handling and navigational skills throughout the course. (B, L, D)
