YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK: WINTER SKI SAFARI FOR WOMEN

Trip Dates 2011: February 12 - 19 and 2012: February 11 - 18

Land Costs: $1450

DAY 1 (Arrival: Saturday, Feb 12, 2011 or Feb 11, 2012)

Depart for Bozeman, Montana. Overnight in Bozeman and meals on your own. Hotel assistance in Bozeman provided so group is together for briefing and am departure.

DAY 2 Early morning shuttle from Bozeman to Mammoth Hot Springs located in northwest Yellowstone Park. It is not unusual to spot big horn sheep on the steep rocky bluffs as we enter the park. We will pick up lunch along the way. We spend the night at the Mammoth Hot Springs Hotel - a comfortable classic hotel located at the base of immense travertine terraces with steaming hot springs and bubbling pools. After a brief trip orientation, we enjoy an afternoon ski in the upper terraced area or Indian Creek. Basic ski instruction provided as needed. (L)

DAY 3 We enjoy a full day of touring in the famed wolf release area, Lamar Valley. Wonderful rolling countryside with big open vistas, snowy meadows and spruce-fir forests leading into the canyon walls of Barronette and Abiathar Peaks. Ski the favored Bannock trail leading to lunch at the end of the winter road in Cooke City. The trails in these areas are rated as easiest to more difficult. It is not uncommon in these areas to sight coyote, elk, bison and occasionally big horn sheep! In addition, the Lamar Valley is where, in 1995, fourteen gray wolves were reintroduced into Yellowstone Park. There is always the possibility of seeing wolves or at the very least, signs of their presence. Evening interpretive programs covering a variety of topics related to wildlife and geothermal activity are offered at the lodge by park naturalists. (BL)

DAY 4 After breakfast, we depart via snow coach to the Old Faithful area. This four-hour shuttle offers great opportunity for viewing winter wildlife in their natural habitat. Our journey is narrated by a park naturalist. In addition to viewing elk, bison, pronghorn antelope and the occasional moose, this area is the winter home for many birds such as the bald eagle, osprey, snow geese and trumpeter swan. Upon arrival at the Old Faithful Snow Lodge, we enjoy a late afternoon / evening ski tour through the steaming Biscuit Basin and Old Faithful geyser areas. This area is the largest concentration of geysers in the world...these geothermal features cloaked in winter weather are spectacular! (BL)

DAYS 5-6 Full days of backcountry ski options in the Spring Creek / Lone Star Geyser areas. We are shuttled by snow coach out to the trailhead and then follow the beautiful Spring Creek trail on a mostly gentle downhill slope (some steeper sections) to the Lone Star Geyser trail. Visit the Old Faithful interpretive center and evening park naturalist program. Optional group tour: the north rim of the Grand Canyon of Yellowstone River. Witness the rivers upper and lower water falls and the complex geologic park history in dramatic colors, shapes and smells. Sightings of snowshoe hare, deer and river otter are a possibility here. (BL)

DAY 7 Sunrise ski the Fern Cascades loop - stunning trail through a hilly section of the 1988 burn area. Or, if you wish, there is the option of spending the morning walking along the boardwalk through the Old Faithful geyser basin with boiling blue green hot springs, bubbling mud pots and steaming fumaroles. After lunch we return via snow coach to the Mammoth Hot Springs lodge and a final evening banquet. (BLD)

DAY 8 (Departure date: Saturday, Feb 19, 2011 or Feb 18, 2012)

After breakfast, we depart for Bozeman, Montana and depart for hometown. Return flights should not be scheduled until after 5 pm. (B)

Special Note: Although we try to adhere to this printed itinerary, due to circumstances beyond our control (i.e. weather, traffic, flight schedules), this itinerary is subject to change. Prices for 2012 may adjust based on fall 2011 rates.

How Strenuous is this trip: This trip is designed for the new and the experienced cross-country touring skier. We will ski each day on non-groomed skied-in trails. There will be plenty of opportunity for ski instruction. You will have the option of skiing with an experienced escort or you may choose to spend the day on a self-guided tour. The pace of each day is fairly flexible. The all-day tours are between 5-7 hours in length and, although not technical, do require a hearty spirit!

What About Clothing & Equipment: Bring your own personal cross-country ski gear or rent from the park. If you choose not to travel with gear or do not have personal gear, full package ski rentals are available at the various lodges. What is the Weather Like: Days are typically dry, cold and sunny...making for ideal skiing conditions! Temperatures may range from 45°F to below zero.
